

Unigarn® Flax Packing Yarn

- by Unipak

Unigarn® Flax Packing Yarn is a pure natural product, which is made from fine, uniform and long-fibred crocheted linen.

Unigarn combined with jointing compound tight and flexible joints and is very economical to use.

3-strand packing twine is used for packing glassed socket pipes or cast-iron socket pipes.

At high temperatures (>140 °C) there is a risk of scorching the flax fibres.

If the packing twine is exposed to temperatures above 130 °C for a long time, there is a risk of scorching the flax fibres. However, the packing yarn can withstand short-term temperatures exposure up to 140 °C.

BRUGSANVISNING:

Unigarn Flax Packing Yarn is applied to the thread evenly and tightly in the direction of twisting to its full extent. Next, the entire packed thread is smeared with a suitable amount of jointing compound in an even layer, after which clamping can be carried out immediately and the system can be put into use.
